

CorrectionsToCollegeCA.org

A hub of information for California's colleges, universities, and justice-involved college students

CorrectionsToCollegeCA.org is a resource website supporting college opportunities for currently and formerly incarcerated students in California. Visitors to the site can use an interactive map or searchable directory to find programs, explore course offerings, and access contact information for individual schools. The site also includes a directory of resources, lists of relevant news items and upcoming events, and videos showcasing the transformative power of higher education. CorrectionsToCollegeCA.org is a product of Renewing Communities, a joint initiative of The Opportunity Institute and the Stanford Criminal Justice Center. For more frequent news and updates follow Corrections to College CA on facebook at facebook.com/CorrectionsToCollegeCA.